Issues of racist and misogynistic behaviour at elections in England and Wales have been referred to the police, the Electoral Commission has revealed. The watchdog has recorded a 17% increase in complaints this election compared with 2010, with more than 9,500 submitted by voters. Election 2016 result: Read more on how the UK voted Most of the cases were reported in North West England where there were 3,400 complaints in that region (up from 2,700 the previous year), according to figures released by the commission. The North West region has also seen the second highest number of reported racist incidents during elections. However, it has also been in the top five regions with the highest number of complaints of misogynistic behaviour. Six of the 17 national police forces have also received a complaint from a member of the public about their performance, the commission has said. Levels of reporting of such behaviour were mixed, but the proportion of complaints identified by police as requiring a further investigation was high, ranging from 10% to 35% (depending on the region

DEVELOPER'S TRIAL MULTIPLAYER FantasyRPG Online Developer's Trial Version is a two-part online RPG fantasy action game developed by FantasyRPG, a team of experts and newcomers in the development of online games. This free test version contains the following quests: Gossip - The pretty players at the party gathered on the beach, and they are keeping up a noisy conversation. Stereoselective synthesis and pharmacology of 5,6-dihydropyrrolo[3,2-c]pyrrolo[2,1-b]azepin-2(5H)-one: a potent and specific sigma receptor ligand.

5,6-Dihydropyrrolo[3,2-c]pyrrolo[2,1-b]azepin-2(5H)-one was designed, synthesized, and evaluated as a potentially selective sigma ligand. The key intermediate 5-amino-6-chloropyrrolo[3,2-c]pyrrolo[2,1-b]azepin-2(5H)-one 8 was prepared in nine steps from the t-butyl silyl protected 4,6-dichlorocarbazolone 6 in 21% overall yield. The "core" was then converted to the N-methyl derivative 11, which was stably bound by 18-crown-6, deprotected, and amidated to give 12 in 19% yield over nine steps. Selective conversion of 12 to 13 via the desilylation of the secondary amine to the quaternary iminium salt 14, followed by exposure to methyl iodide and protonation of the methyl ester of 14, generated the target compound 15 in 81% yield over six steps. As expected, a similarly stereospecific sequence gave the corresponding isomer 16. Pharmacological studies showed that 15 was quite specific for sigma receptors, at least in the rhesus monkey brain.

Chiropractic News & Information Your Health Care Options Sometimes, the ultimate choices we make in life aren't just about ourselves. Sometimes, our choices impact others—in particular, the people around us. Chiropractic care is no exception, because the treatments our doctors and therapists offer have the potential to make a difference in not just your health and well-being, but also the lives of people you care about. That is the purpose of our chiropractic practice and our mission—to provide our patients with the best quality chiropractic care and to help them live healthier, more fulfilling lives. We would like to share the mission statement of the National Chiropractic Mutual Insurance Company with you to remind you of the important role we play in the lives of our patients. We believe in the importance of individual health care choices. The quality of the care that is delivered in chiropractic practices is in the hands of the providers in our health care delivery system. We support the following statements: Chiropractic recognizes that the best type of care is the care that is individualized for each individual patient. Chiropractic is not an exclusive health care discipline but is complementary to other health care professionals. Chiropractic's contribution to the body of evidence-based information has resulted in increased patient care. Chiropractic is a new healthcare discipline. Our partners believe in our mission statement. They understand that, in order to ensure the best health care possible, physicians must ensure that the practice they refer their patients to is, in fact, licensed and abiding by the laws of their State or jurisdiction. This gives the patient a legal recourse if he or she is not satisfied with the care that is provided at that office. And so it is that we have partnered with Mutual Insurance Companies, which are “independent,” that is, they are not owned or controlled by health insurance providers or health care insurers. They do not allow their companies to interfere in the management of any chiropractic practice. This gives the patients at your office the ability to feel comfortable about the care they receive from their doctors and their therapists—in the same way a patient would feel comfortable in a doctor's or dentist's office if he or she had direct access to the board of a commercial health care organization. This gives the patients at our offices the ability to feel comfortable about the care
