i have a sony tv that i am trying to find the model number for. i found the model number to be xbdg75u3. i have it on the back of the tv. can someone please tell me the model number that is on the back of the tv. if you're lucky enough to have purchased a tv from the same retailer as the one selling the headphones, you can simply search the retailer's site to find out what the serial number of the tv is. for most online retailers, this is as easy as browsing the help section of the website. for example, the serial number of the sony xbr-55x850g is xb55x850g, and the serial number of the sony xbr-75x850g is xb75x850g. if you purchase the headphones from a retailer not listed here, it's a good idea to contact them and ask. thank you for contacting sei. the serial number is listed on the product manual that is supplied with the television. if your product manual is lost or damaged, you may view the serial number by following these steps: open the following link in a web browser: click on the link titled "view model number, serial number, and warranty information". enter the product number, model number, and serial number in the appropriate boxes. the serial number that is displayed on the back of the screen may not be the same as the serial number on the tv itself. if you have a serial number, you need to know the model number and serial number of your tv. my brand new sony tv was set up for 2 years with the serial number on the back of the tv. i changed my mind and changed to another brand so when i went to register my new tv i had no idea what serial number to enter. unfortunately it doesnt have a serial number, i am going to try to contact sony but i am not holding my breath. is there anyway i can get a different serial number for this brand new tv. i need to register it for a vod account and i cant do that without the serial number. please help. i need a solution to this quick because the vod account is set up and i need to get this tv registered so that i can use the vod account.

looking around at what we have in the house to try and make this happen we found what appears to be a walmart tv with one of those square/rectangle thin boxes on it. a couple of years back i had a lawn mower and similar looking product that required a key to turn on and the box with the key in it. after some googling on the box, we found the model number and serial number numbers and that the box is made by sony. an interesting thing about this box is the fact that it comes with what appears to be a remote control. curious to see how that device performs i hooked it up and it seems to turn on, but its not picking up wifi. also, the device has a serial number of 04b. i searched for 04b online and the closest i found was a chinese website so not sure if this is legitimate or not. ive put in the request to the post office to send us a key as our wifi keeps dropping. if you cant find it, you can contact the manufacturer for information. some advice: try not to panic, and make sure you have the correct wiring diagram for your specific model. if you are unsure, google the model number and "tv wiring diagram".

sometimes, it is the transducers that have to be reconnected or the mains power supply. once again, make sure the model you have is the model you are trying to replace. most tv's have a wifi antenna, wi-fi logo and network connections at the back of the set. if you cannot use the wifi to access the web, then you will need a wifi router (or lan cable) or the wifi android tv remote app (or alternatives). the tv may support streaming tv services such as netflix, hulu, amazon and freeview through the internet. then you would need the appropriate wifi android tv remote app if the tv does not support it. 5ec8ef588b
