Masters basketball: San Francisco State hits the road We like to think about our college hoops teams as regional rivals. When the Aztecs are at home, the Grizzlies are at a disadvantage. When we cheer for MSU, it's just a matter of "Go Aztecs, Go!" At least San Francisco State's home field is better than its travels. Or at least that's what we thought until Friday. The Spartans, making their first trip to the state of Utah, beat Utah Valley 76-64 on Friday night. Led by junior forward Chris Kimble, who scored a career-high 16 points, State defeated the Wolverines for the second time in three years. "It was good to see the home team get beat," said MSU coach Brett Reed. "It's going to be a lot of fun to see what happens." The loss was UVM's 10th straight. Former Spartan Paul Baribeau (1994-99) led all scorers with 19 points and was recently named the NCAA Men's Basketball Committee's national player of

The Spartans (8-5, 1-0 Summit League) will be on the road again for a meeting with a team that's in rebuilding mode. Western Michigan (3-14, 0-1 MAC) is coming off a 54-51 home defeat to Ohio at the hands of the No. 4 team in the country. "Ohio did a better job of guarding us than they did the other night against Western Michigan," Kimble said. "They made it easier on us." The loss dropped the Broncos to their lowest point total in the John Dienhart era, which began in 1999. Brad Underwood is the WSU coach leading this transition. He's hoping his team can emerge by next season. "We're going to keep working. We had a great run for four years," Underwood said. "We'll try and make it into a six-year run." It'll be interesting to see what happens as Underwood attempts to revamp the program. Unhappily for the No. 15 Arizona Wildcats, a flurry of offense was unable to stem the flow of underclassmen at Nebraska. It didn't matter to the Wildcats (12-4, 1-
